Good morning,

As you may be aware of already, we did not submit a proposal for this project. As of last night, we received a price from the roof hugger system which was much higher than expected. The cost of that system vs replacing the roof is close to a 100+% difference. We had the bid bond and all of our paperwork ready to submit but due to receiving the roof hugger price at 4:45pm didn't allow us the necessary time to call our bonding company and ask for an increase. We hope another company was able to get what they needed sooner than us. If things don't move forward, we would like to propose a new roof vs the roof hugger system as the budget (for us) would not allow for making this project feasible. Have a great week. Thank you.

Regards,
